

Robots were imagined long before they were ever built. Over the years, science-fiction literature and film have featured robots in a variety of roles. Review this unit's timeline, and note the entries that cite robots in books or films. Now, identify a robot character from a book or film not covered in the timeline. Write a review of the robot character, being sure to include the name and year of the book or film, the robot's name, a description of the robot's appearance, and the robot's role in the story

Questions to Consider:

- How was the robot introduced into the story?
- Did the robot play a positive or negative role? What makes you think that?
- Did the robot have powers or abilities beyond those of humans?
- Was the robot more intelligent than humans? Did it display emotions?
- What was the robot's situation at the end of the story?
